Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

Any settlement that doesn't offer me free lifetime hassle-free monitoring is a waste of my time. I will be fifty years old next year and have worked in the credit/financial sector for 15 years. I don't want to spend my golden years trying to prevent fraud with my information that was stolen in the data breach. I don't feel asking Equifax for free lifetime fraud protection is unreasonable or unsustainable. My information was stolen because of nothing I did. I will have now have to monitor this for the rest of my life, and the offer of the 10 years or so of monitoring is laughable. I'm truly disgusted by the whole situation and hope you see fit to require Equifax to provide free lifetime monitoring to myself and other individuals impacted by this date breach.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

I was told the compensation would be significantly more than $10 and to change it without approval is unfair. Quite honestly, $200 for a breach of my SS# is inadequate.

In re: Equifax Inc. Customer Data Security Breach Litigation

Case No. 1:17-md-2800-TWT

Lynnette Gralak

902 Autumn Park Dr. Apt C. North Platte Ne. 69101

I have checked the settlement website and have confirmed I am a class member.

I object to this settlement, on the grounds its terms are:

- Unfair ☐ Unduly burdensome ☐
- Inadequate ☐
- Unreasonable ☒

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I am unable to attend the settlement hearing in person.

I do not expect to be represented by an attorney.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

I've had people calling me up with my credit card numbers trying to get more info from them. I had a loan officer call me about the last steps in a loan, they were using an old address of mine. I get one call after another. I put a freeze on all 3 credit bureaus to had to lift it for a credit check. This has caused hell on my life. I don't know really how bad it is on my social security card or any of my private info. They even have aliases I use to use.

This is easy, if people are giving out your personal information without your knowledge is that fair? And when some does this and only gets a slap on the wrist you think that will teach them? NO! They need to be used to set the example.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

This is the third time my social security number has been exposed by a large company and I have already signed up for credit monitoring through Experian---who also had their own data breach which exposed my data and I have to trust them to monitor???? It doesn't make sense. Wh were told if we already had credit monitoring...and I have Experian AND Lifelock...that we could choose to receive a cash payment of $125. Now they say they are only going to give us 5-10 dollars. This is nothing! They make billions every year and want to get away with negligence by giving us peanuts---the inedible kind! Please make their "reimbursement" to us amount to more than that. Make them pay what was promised! Thank you for listening. Jeffery Thibodeaux

Kerry Scripps

717, W 90th St
Newaygo, MI 49337

I have checked the settlement website and have confirmed I am a class member.

I object to this settlement, on the grounds its terms are:

- Unfair ☐ Unduly burdensome ☐
- Inadequate ☒
- Unreasonable ☐

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I will not attend the settlement hearing in person.

I do not expect to be represented by an attorney.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

Ten dollars does not represent an adequate amount of money to compensate for the information breach ten dollars doesn't begin to cover the potential threat it could cause me!

This is a multi-million dollar company that makes a fortune off people's data. What they report seriously affects people's lives. We should have a reasonable expectation that our information is secure. Equifax did not do their due diligence in that respect. And when they were caught and fined, they low-balled the settlement, knowing full well how many people would respond. They need to pay the 125.00 they promised. The fine should hurt their bottom line to encourage better safeguards are put in place.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

My personal data was compromised. Data Equifax compiled, stored, and provided to lenders and creditors. My entire life I was taught that it is critical for ones financial future to maintain an excellent credit score. I didn't have a choice about who held my data nor what score I was given but every financial decision I made was gathered up and compiled by them. I HAD to trust them with this data and they were not good stewards at all. Now they want to get out of the consequences of their carelessness? If I had been careless with my credit score they wouldn't let me get out of that. Please show me and my fellow Americans that there is actually some justice out there. Don't allow Equifax to escape the consequences of this horrible data breach. Thank you for your time.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

Your Honor,

This breach is one of the highest magnitude. I spent a period of time homeless in Phoenix, AZ. I eventually decided to pull myself out of that mess by joining the Army and getting my life back on track. It took a great many years to repair the mess I had made of my credit. I have worked incredibly hard for everything my family and I are able to enjoy. The possible ramifications of this breach can set us back enormously from our goals. I implore you to consider the very real, life changing, danger Equifax's breach brings to all of us everyday Americans. I very respectfully request that you keep all of us in your thoughts as you determine your ruling in this matter.

Equifax has failed to protect data of persons that are required to use their services for creditworthiness. Being offered a credit monitoring and protect service from this company, that has already failed the public, is an insult to the public. I urge you to reconsider what constitutes as a reasonable payment of the debt owed to the public for these violations.

Our personal information is very important to our lives and livley hood. When our information is mishandled, it can have some dramatic effects on people's lives. This settlement is a farce and is completely inadequate. So many times companies that we entrust our security to take it for granted like they own it. They treat it with cavalier attitudes and when it is mishandled and lost they act like it is no big deal. "Oops, we're sorry. We'll do better." The problem is that they are never forced to pay adequately so obviously they do nothing to improve. It is time to tell them that we take this seriously!

Thank you,

I have checked the settlement website and have confirmed I am a class member.

- Unreasonable ☒

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

The Equifax data breach is a particularly egregious data breach for two reasons. First, it has not been possible to "opt-out" of Equifax's data collection while participating in the modern economy (banks, credit cards, etc.). Second, an unusually large and unusually sensitive amount of information was exposed to cyber-criminals, including full names, social security numbers, addresses, and more.

The dangers of identity theft are at this point well understood, and many individuals already have credit monitoring services as a result. Therefore, offering credit monitoring does not offer recompense for many affected individuals.

Furthermore, the alternate compensation cap of $31 million does not go far enough to deter Equifax from future breaches, since it is a small fraction of Equifax's annual revenue.

Equifax is a company who's job it is to protect and hold sacred the information it controls and reports. The loss of this data is devastating for those who are looking to purchase high dollar items. Equifax's lax internet protocol are the reason for the personal data to be stolen. They shold be held accountable.

Judge Thrash;

I appreciate your willingness to consider my comments.

Given the scope of the invasion of privacy, and the potential for loss and the resulting burdens of clearing ones history, the proposed settlement truly allows Equifax to be able to take a walk, and write it off.

Considering the pending Pay Day for the class action attorneys, this would seem to be a conflict of interest for them. As such, I am relying on you to establish a fairness metric that works.

Thanks,

I feel the expected settlement amount is unfair and inadequate considering the expected settlement amounts that were communicated at the beginning of the process, the gravity of the situation considering the wealth of personal information that was exposed, the time I have spent reviewing and correcting my credit report (an unauthorized credit card account was opened in my name, and several other attempts were made to open up credit card accounts in my name using my social security number and other personal information), and the undue worry that I have had to endure knowing my personal information has been compromised.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

The proposed settlement is not enough of a burden to discourage something similar from happening in the future. Our social security information is our identity, and Equifax was trusted to keep it in confidence. A year of credit monitoring is a negligible cost for them, and not enough of a compensation for us. Experian has also proved untrustworthy, and credit monitoring alone isn't enough to completely remove the threat of identity theft or to give any assistance when it actually happens.

We need to make sure companies are taking data security seriously. Too many are behind the times - the nature of technology means there are constantly new threats that need to be managed.

Case No. 1:17-md-2800-TWT

Hugh Rhyne

2904 Navajo Drive, Big Spring, TX, USA

I have checked the settlement website and have confirmed I am a class member.

I object to this settlement, on the grounds its terms are:

- Unfair ☒ Unduly burdensome ☒
- Inadequate ☒
- Unreasonable ☒

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I will not attend the settlement hearing in person.

I do not expect to be represented by an attorney.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

Equifax is getting off too lightly for the damage done to customers who have no choice in their information being collected by Equifax. They offered one amount and when it became an issue of too many customers filing a compensation they wanted to be let off on a lesser amount.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

Hello Judge Thrash as a member of this class action case who has been financially affected by this data breach, like to say what I have been through as a direct result of this data breach has been absolutely horrifying. I gave adm9bey taken from my bank accounts both Green Dot Visa and from my US Bank account. The total amount stolen from me was almost 2 thousand dollars. Judge Thrash, I am a caregiver to my adult son and cannot afford to take that kind of loss and this situation is hurtful as well as stressful. Please do not let Equifax get away with being careless with our information. It's bad enough our extremely personal information gets sold without our knowledge or consent to whoever the highest bidder is that day but there are people out there ruining our lives with our own information.. Please do

I have checked the settlement website and have confirmed I am a class member.

I object to this settlement, on the grounds its terms are:

- Unfair ☐ Unduly burdensome ☐
- Inadequate ☒
- Unreasonable ☒

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I will not attend the settlement hearing in person.

I do not expect to be represented by an attorney.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

Dear Judge Thomas W. Thrash Jr.,

We need to send a message to all those corporations that manage personal data to upgrade all their systems and ensure they have cyber security in place. The only way for them to understand that message is to have them shell out millions not hundreds. The only time anyone, persons or corporation, really listen is when they are hit in the pocketbook.

I trust you will do the right thing by consumers and all Americans. Thanks for your attention to this matter.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

Your Honor, I spent decades as an information security professional and hold a CISSP designation. Equifax's data breach demonstrates that they failed to use even the most rudimentary measures to maintain the Availability, Integrity and Confidentiality of our financial data. That they engaged in insider trading prior to making the breach public shows bad faith and an attempt to avoid consequences for their criminally negligent actions. This is egregious. They deserve a much more harsh sanction than what is proposed as a reminder that they must take data privacy concerns seriously.

Thank you most sincerely for hearing my objection.

In re: Equifax Inc. Customer Data Security Breach Litigation

Case No. 1:17-md-2800-TWT

Donna Price

6 Vincent Court, Spring, TX, USA

I have checked the settlement website and have confirmed I am a class member.

I object to this settlement, on the grounds its terms are:

- Unfair ☒ Unduly burdensome ☐
- Inadequate ☒
- Unreasonable ☒

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I will not attend the settlement hearing in person.

I do not expect to be represented by an attorney.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

For the inconvenience and time spent dealing with the breach and going through each account to maintain is security, $1.25 doesn't come anywhere close to covering the time spent on correcting and fixing the breach on any individual's account.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

The proposed settlement amount is unfairly low. Equifax made massive profits from using my personal information and continues to benefit from this while my personal information is exposed to the world. We need better compensation than this. It's like another slap in the face.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

Equifax took little to no care in protecting my most precious information - my social security number. With my social security number, criminals could buy and sell my information to open fraudulent accounts in my name, which would affect my credit score, which is monitored by Equifax! I hope you see the and understand the financial distress this data breach could cause me and millions of others. Millions of folks like me who have no recourse to pursue a large multi-billion dollar corporation, except through our judicial system. Please remember that you give a voice to people like me, with no resources to ensure these companies are held responsible for their actions. We must set a precedent to educate these companies that data IS money. Without our data, they would never hit record-level profits for their shareholders. Protect our data!

Case No. 1:17-md-2800-TWT

Jeffrey Permar

922 Courtland Ave, Reidsville, NC 27320

I have checked the settlement website and have confirmed I am a class member.

I object to this settlement, on the grounds its terms are:

- Unfair ☒ Unduly burdensome ☐
- Inadequate ☒
- Unreasonable ☒

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I will not attend the settlement hearing in person.

I do not expect to be represented by an attorney.

N/A

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

The settlement is less than 10% of the projected amount and an inadequate amount as punishment for the breach.

I have checked the settlement website and have confirmed I am a class member.

I object to this settlement, on the grounds its terms are:

- Unfair ☒ Unduly burdensome ☐
- Inadequate ☒
- Unreasonable ☐

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I will not attend the settlement hearing in person.

I do not expect to be represented by an attorney.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

The proposed settlement very unsettling. If you asked a stranger how much they would be willing to sell their personal data for, the answer would like be more that $5--if they're willing to sell it at all. The proposed settlement is likely to be orders of magnitude less than advertised. The payment is quite laughable for a large corporation making billions of dollars per year trafficking consumers' personal data (without their consent), and it's a slap in the face to the 147 million people affected by the data breach. The consumer cash portion is less than 5% of the total settlement pool, and the proposed alternative settlement is no better. The proposed credit monitoring supplier only recently settled a large-scale data breach of their own. The attorneys representing the class are getting double the total cash portion of the consumer client base. This is a bad deal, and it must be revised.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

I work very hard to keep my credit in excellent manner. I pay my bills on time and I obey all the laws. If I don't follow the rules set by the credit card companies, I pay more in terms of fees and interest or something of that manner. Equifax should be held to the same standard as its customers. You break the rules, you pay the price. I don't need your apology or your credit watch. I've watched my credit for 12 years with no fraud. You as a company behave in a reckless manner and now for the rest of my life, I have to worry about it. My wife and I were looking to buy our first home and we had excellent credit. Since the hack, our information got pinged and it dropped my credit score to good. The term "good" cost me about .5% on a $500k loan. Where is my compensation for that mistake? It's gonna effect us for the next 30 years as we apply for our home loan in the near future.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

It is ridiculous that this billion dollar company only needs to pay out $5 to each person who will have their data passed insecurely for the rest of their lives. There's no undoing the leak of information. It'll be passed down over the years creating more concern for safety. They need to pay for what they did. It was their negligence. We were first told we would get $125 but that changes based on how many people sign up. That's unethical and unfair. The company needs to lose a lot more money, maybe even bankrupt, for breaking the customers trust and messing up thousands of people's security. They should hurt after the settlement. Not get a slap on the wrist and continue to make millions while we are left with the residual effects.

When a breach of your private information goes public you have to prove you are who you say you are. I have been a victim of identity theft 3x now in my life and i am 55! The last time they would not back the perpetrators information, which was mine! out of the system and put her in as a Jane Doe. So her record remains in MY NAME!! This has cost me jobs, homes, credit, cars, etc. I have to carry around a paper showing it was NOT ME who did this!! Everywhere I go i have to try and prove I am who I say I am!! And today EVERYTHING CAN BE DUPLICATED TO WHERE IT 'LOOKS' LEGAL BUT IT IS NOT! i DESERVE MORE THAN A PIDDLY LITTLE AMOUNT!! IT HAS COST ME SO MUCH MONEY IT IS UNFATHOMABLE. DO THE RIGHT THING HERE PLEASE

- Inadequate ☒
- Unreasonable ☒

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I am unable to attend the settlement hearing in person.

I do not expect to be represented by an attorney.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

It is truly and obviously unfair to allow a party to cause as much damage as Equifax has, and to be liable for so little. If there is no proportionate penalty for those who would repeat Equifax's blunders, ignoring user security becomes the economical thing to do, whenever a company can get away with it (and they will often be able to). The negative externalities of poor computer security must not fall solely on the users and customers of companies like Equifax; the results would be hugely costly to our society's teetering ability to trust our institutions.

In re: Equifax Inc. Customer Data Security Breach Litigation

Case No. 1:17-md-2800-TWT

Nicholas Weaver

4103 Pinot Drive, Napa, CA, USA

I have checked the settlement website and have confirmed I am a class member.

I object to this settlement, on the grounds its terms are:

- Unfair ☐ Unduly burdensome ☐
- Inadequate ☒
- Unreasonable ☐

I have objected to no class action settlements in the last five years.

I am unable to attend the settlement hearing in person.

I do not expect to be represented by an attorney.

Personal note to The Honorable Thomas W. Thrash Jr.

The settlement is effectively fraudulent: Almost all the "payment" to the harmed class members is in the form of credit monitoring service that costs Equifax nothing and really does very little to actually limit the harm, since most consumers would gain much more benefit from a free freeze than they do from monitoring, even if the monitoring is free.

I had submitted a claim for cash reimbursemen, but this followup is under the realization that the claim is effectively $0, since the dollar settlement amount (and I have spent hours trying to set up a freeze with the 3 major agencies) will be so close to 0 that Equifax will probably send more on mailing checks than they will on actually providing a reasonable reimbursement for peoples time.

My personal information and the lack of importance addressed of this issue is far more important than "up to $125." This data breach could potentially effect me forever and we should be fairly compensated for this not just pushed aside. Adequate compensation and measures should be taken immediately and workout any loopholes for lawyers and the like to be compensated fairly while the people who are effected get a few pennies for out troubles.
